Hooves on the Road

The Drouth's Spark

Continental Divide

In our exchange copy of the Queen Daily Citizen I read the report of State Police Trooper Rue Luter as to what happened when a cow walked out in front of a car last Sunday night.

Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Loomis of Texarkana were approaching a bridge when the cow blocked the road. Mr. Loomis hit the brakes and skidded into the bridge-railing. His wife was thrown out and critically injured. The car sustained $700 damage — but the cow apparently escaped.

Trooper Luter warned the Sevier county public that there is a law against letting livestock graze along public highways — a state-wide stocklaw nowdays, I should add.

But the real point of this piece is that we are facing the same sort of thing here in our county. Cattle are grazing along State Highway No. 4 between Hope and Nashville with increasing regularity, and the violations occur within the Hempstead county boundary.

This is no heresay report. I am the witness and I see the same thing every time I go up No. 4. How about a friendly warning to the folks involved?

When you say this prolonged drouth is giving us static you can say it again — for you are speaking the literal truth.

I have been meaning for more than a week to mention an everyday occurrence. You get into your car, slide across the plastic seat-cover, and when your hand touches the steering-wheel a spark knocks the fire out of you.

Eldon Coffman, Hope theater manager, tells me he was shocked kissing his wife goodbye between dinner and the evening show hour.

If this happens to married folks you can see how an automobile is becoming positively dangerous for teen-agers.

Static's social angle is a relatively new development, brought on by the long buildup of dryness. But around industrial plants it's an old and unpleasant character.

Old men fear it. That's why you see a chain hanging from the rear end of a tanker truck with a roller touching the pavement — to draw off static electricity and avert fire.

Static bothers newspaper plants. In dry weather there is a tremendous electrical buildup in the broad web of newsprint as it unrolls through the press. Put your arm near the moving paper and you feel the bristles rise. Static causes many a break in a paper roll that would run without trouble in normal weather.

Can you imagine anything more uninteresting than the annual convention of the American Numismatic association (coin collecting hobbyists)? The Dallas News couldn't, until a smart press agent thought up some new words for a subject as old as the human race.

The smart operator, according to the Dallas News, got the convention to feature "a display of coins dating from the time of England's first Queen Elizabeth. They trace the degree of dip taken by necklines on famous female sovereigns who sat for their portraits on coin of the realm."

"An enterprising United Press reporter got a preview of the display. He finds that Russia's Catherine the Great and Britain's Anne posed in gowns that would be banned on television today. Others boldly displaying the deep dip were Maria Theresa of Austria, Louisa of Prussia, and the beautiful young Empress Elizabeth of Austria-Hungary."

My postscript: How inconsistent can you be and still stay within the human race? Too low for television; and they'd revoke a newspaper editor's mailing permit for publishing a photograph — but it's all right for money, greater circulation than which there is none...

Five Uranium Searchers Killed

HERRON, Mich. (AP) — Five men prospecting for uranium were killed last night when an underground explosion ripped through the 100-foot deep shaft of an abandoned gold mine near here.

A sixth man, John Pastuszka, of Chicago, miraculously escaped injury in the blast which occurred at 11:15 p. m.

Police said the bodies of Chavaler and Zeke Donke were still entombed at the bottom of the water-filled shaft.

Searchers recovered the bodies of the other victims which had been hurled some 300 feet from the shaft entrance by the force of the blast.

CONFIDENTIAL LETTER — Maj. Gen. Orlando C. Mood, left, said that a letter he received from Gen. James Van Fleet was "confidential and personal" and he had no idea how Gen. Dwight Eisenhower got a copy of it. Gen. Van Fleet, at right with his wife, said in the letter to Gen. Mood he had been unable to get permission to replace American G.I.'s in the front lines with ROK troops. Pres. Truman denied published reports that the 8th Army Commander has been relieved of his Korean command and replaced by Lt. Gen. Maxwell Taylor. (NEA Telephoto)

DENIES CHARGES — Col. Lawrence Westbrook, seated, discharged Democratic party member, denied at a press conference in Dallas that he had any connection with the Government or the Democratic party at the time he helped negotiate a $9,000,000 contract for a Portuguese tungsten firm. ### Trees for Tomorrow's Forests

This tree nursery is one of many in the United States, producing seedling trees for replanting on privately owned land. Nature, it is hoped by wise management does most of our reforestation, yet hand planting is sometimes necessary, particularly on idle fields where seed trees are not available.

Hempstead County landowners, cooperating with the Hope Chamber of Commerce and the local soil conservation district, last year planted almost a million pine seedlings. Although hampered by an extended drought, and threatened by one of the worst fire seasons in the history of the state, a majority of the trees planted last year in South Arkansas have survived.

With the tree planting season still a month away, orders have been placed for more than 22 million of the estimated 25 million trees in the State Nursery at Bluff City, according to a recent report from Nursery Manager Paul Adams.

Proclamation

Tuesday, November 4, 1952 is election day. On that day, every citizen is equal to every other citizen. On that day, the future course of our government with respect to both domestic and international policies will be determined. On that day, and by our votes, we preserve the principles of freedom and liberty established by the founding fathers of our Nation.

Therefore, as Mayor of Hope, Arkansas, I hereby proclaim and declare Tuesday, November 4, 1952, to be a day when all true American citizens, who are physically able, should cast their votes. Whether your choice for leadership is Stevenson and Sparkman, or whether it be Eisenhower and Nixon, I direct this appeal to every citizen of our city to vote on November 4th.

The strength of America is in its people. We shall remain a strong nation just as long as our people take pride in their Americanism. There is no better evidence of your Americanism than your appearance at the voting place.

Ohio Voters Divided on Loyalty

COLUMBUS, O. (UP) — Many Ohio voters are expected by some observers to express divided loyalties at the polls Tuesday.

Political experts said many voters in the state still haven't made up their minds, but they saw evidence that a Republican, Senator John W. Bricker is likely to be returned to Washington while they expect Democratic Gov. Frank J. Lausche to win his fourth term. Populous Cleveland, Akron and Youngstown, all industrial centers, have been Democratic strongholds. But the Democrats have slipped in these areas since the landslide of 1936, these experts believe.

Ohio's rural areas are usually conservative but in 1948 sufficient rural residents voted Democratic to swing the state to President Truman.

In the senatorial race, differences between Bricker and his Democratic opponent, Michael V. DiSalle, former Toledo, O., mayor and former head of the office of price stabilization, are sharp.

Bricker during three terms as governor of Ohio and in the Senate has opposed most administration proposals.

Charles Taft, Republican candidate for governor, would need a Republican landslide to defeat Lausche, some experts say.

Lausche is a middle-of-the-road Democrat with a conservative record. He has a large following among urban and rural leaders. Taft, brother of the senator, has feuded with the GOP organization in his own Hamilton County because of his liberal views, and the experts believe this will cost him votes.

Local Store Operators Attend Dallas Market

Mr. C. C. Lewis, Ben J. Owens and Mrs. Mike Kelly have been in Dallas attending the American Fashion Association's Advance Spring and Resort Market, Oct. 28-31, held at the Adolphus, Baker and Blue Bonnet Hotels.

Of special interest to the buyers this market was the "Man made Fiber Show" presented by The Ladies' Home Journal under the auspices of the American Fashion Association, in which the modern synthetic fabrics, such as Vicara, Dynel, and Dacron, were demonstrated.

"Spring Fervor" was the theme of the American Fashion Breakfast Clinics which were held on Oct. 28 and 29 at the Baker Hotel. Sales and promotion ideas relating to "Silhouette Fervor," "Fervor for Knits," and "Fervor for Neutrals" were illustrated with garments modeled from the current lines shown in the market. Mrs. Evelyn Lambert was commentator.

Arkansans Cited for Heroism

PITTSBURGH, (M) — Four Arkansans, involved in two similar truck accidents, have been cited by the Carnegie Hero Fund Commission for outstanding bravery.

The Commission, a branch of the Carnegie Foundation, awarded bronze medals to two West Memphis Negro laborers—Richard Collins and Zeke Smith Sr.—and two El Dorado men—the late A. Lee Johnson and Robert R. Purgerson.

Johnson's widow also received a cash settlement in addition to the commission's second highest award. Johnson was burned fatally as he attempted to rescue his son and two members of another family, trapped in a burning log truck on a Louisiana highway in 1951.

Purgerson, a passing motorist, pulled one man out of the truck and hauled Johnson, whose clothes were on fire, away from the scene as the vehicle's gasoline tanks exploded.

The Commission said Collins and Smith escaped through an open window when the truck in which they were riding overturned and burst into flames on a Mississippi highway in 1950. However, their construction foreman was trapped in the cab.

The two men returned to the burning truck, the citation said, and pulled the foreman to safety "seconds before the gasoline tank erupted into flames 80 feet high."

Corporations Are Making Less Money

NEW YORK (M) — Two out of every three corporations are making less money so far this year than last. They are clearing 90 cents this year.

But most of the set back came in the first half of the year. For a majority of companies the July, August and September quarter shows gains over a year ago. And many predict even brighter results in the final months of 1952.

The first 319 corporations to report net earnings for the first nine months of 1952 show a combined profit of $2,665,820,572, a drop of 9.8 per cent from the $2,949,072,524 net income the same companies had in the same period of 1951.

Blamed are higher taxes, crippling strikes, material shortages, rising prices, rising operating costs, including higher wages — and, for a number of companies, declining sales totals.

Many more hundreds of corporations have yet to report, and the final results could be changed. But of the 319 early ones, 217 show earnings running behind.

Forty eight show sharp drops from the year ago profit figures, and eight companies operated in the red so far this year.

But 102 companies are making more money this year than last. And a number of them are doing strikingly better.

Claude Stuart, 69, Dies at His Home Here

Fire Destroys Nursing Home, 18 Persons Die

HILLSBORO, Mo. (M) — Eighteen elderly patients died last night as fire raged through a three-story nursing home here.

Most of the dead were trapped on the third floor of the stone structure. Other bodies were found a floor below.

A nurse first discovered the blaze about 5:45 p. m. as sparks and smoke came from a ceiling of the first floor between the main building and an annex.

The fire spread quickly up stairways and along corridors as attendants tried to get the 85 residents, several of them invalids, out of the building.

Hillsboro Fire Chief Richard King said the blaze apparently began in a men's wash room on the first floor. He made no damage estimate on the main building which he called a total loss.

At least 38 other residents were reported injured. They were taken in ambulances to hospitals in the St. Louis area. Those not hurt were moved to rest homes in the area.

Mrs. Mary Carron, 81, Crystal City, Mo., said she was sitting in a chair toward the rear of the second floor of the main building when she noticed smoke.

The next thing she knew someone was half-carrying, half-dragging her downstairs and out of the building.

James Lewis, operator of the home, said many of those dead apparently became confused in the smoke and died of suffocation.

Sixteen of the dead were found in the building. Two others were reported dead on arrival at St. Louis County Hospital.

Hillsboro firemen were joined by men and equipment from four nearby towns. They brought the blaze under control in a little over two hours.

An inquest was scheduled by Jefferson County authorities for today.

Dunlap Denies Being Subpoenaed

SEATTLE (M) — Internal Revenue Commissioner John Dunlap denied here early today that he ever had been subpoenaed by a House judiciary subcommittee in Washington which is investigating tax irregularities.

Dunlap, here to attend installation of new tax officials today, said "I never have received a subpoena on any subject. It is a complete misstatement. We have given them 100 per cent co-operation and we will continue to do so. I won't make any other comment."

Dunlap was answering charges of Chairman King (D-Calif.) and Rep. Keen of New Jersey, ranking Republican member of the subcommittee, that he had refused to appear at a subcommittee meeting when the subpoena deadline expired Wednesday afternoon.

Spain Has a New Method of Combating Inflation - Monthly Bonus Instead of Pay Hikes

By HAL BOYLE
MADRID, Spain (M) — Spain has come up with a curious program for the problem of inflation which now bedevils almost every modern land.

After losing its attempt to keep prices in check during the past year, Spain has decided to try holding the fort by granting a series of cash bonuses to workers instead of flat salary increases.

This is a compromise worked out by Generalissimo Francisco Franco's advisers, who earlier licked Spain's black market problem by doing away with bizarre economic experiments that had crippled individual effort here.

The stop-gap compromise calls for one or more monthly salary bonuses to all employees of private firms — bonuses to be paid entirely by the employer. It was adopted after a heated argument between Spain's labor minister and the minister of commerce.

The labor minister said the workers simply could not live on their present income. The commerce minister contended a general pay hike would bring a new wave of inflation.

The number of these emergency, one-month salary bonuses to be granted varies with the industry. For example, bank employees who already get a month's paid vacation each year under the new scheme will be paid 17 months salary for the 11 months they work.

The ordinary day laborer, paid by the hour, gets nothing extra under the new scheme. He is feeding and clothing himself and family (and told it's patriotic to have more and more children) on 14 to 18 pesetas a day. That's between 35 and 45 cents a day.

He is so low on Spain's economic totem pole that he often works without shoes and his clothing is ragged and tattered.

He is able to get by only because every member of the family, including the small children, work at any job they can find. It is common for a man in this country, even a government employee, to hold two and even three jobs if he is fortunate enough to find that many.

It does the day laborer no good to protest at his pitiful wages, there is plenty of unemployed labor available. Yet the supply of Spain must import technicians from other countries for her factories.

His utter poverty seems less shocking to Juan Lopez — Spain's common man — than it does to outside eyes because Juan has had this lot for centuries under every regime. He remembers with yearning now the days of the monarchs, which fell in 1808, because bread cost less then. And to him the price of bread is always more important than who runs the government.

Spain's newest Allied in Western land economic experiment, the monthly bonus battle to combat inflation, means as little to Lopez as it does to the foreigner.

Lopez, a 45-year-old father of four, lives in a tiny room in a tenement in Madrid. He is a

Hunting Banned Until Fire Danger Is Over

LITTLE ROCK (M) — All forms of hunting in Arkansas were banned yesterday by the Arkansas Game and Fish Commission as a result of hazardous forest fire sweeping Arkansas.

And at Camden, Assistant Game Forester "Ranger Jim" Mott says some progress has been made against two raging forest fires near Newark. He said from 15,000 to 18,000 acres had been burned over in the area — about 15 miles west of Camden.

The Game and Fish Commission, meeting here, said all hunting will be prohibited "until further notice," adding that the fires probably would be released when the fires are brought under control.

Commission Secretary T. A. Amis said another meeting will be held before the opening of the season Nov. 10.

It was the first time in Arkansas history that the Commission has taken such action toward hunting season.

Meanwhile, Martin said the firefighters in the Newark area received cheer news with the subsiding of a whipping wind.

The assistant state forester said the situation at Newark was the worst of the October forest fires. Martin said some 35 firefighters worked around 20,000 acres of burned area yesterday. Seventeen fires which burned 418 acres were put out yesterday.

South Koreans Edge Toward Top of Triangle

By STAN CARTER

SEOUL (M) — South Korean fantrymen clawed slowly up the shell-blasted slopes of Mt. Incheon today while Allied forces blasted the Chinese-held plateau in an effort to cut down their power.

Far to the north, Allied jets clashed with Communist fighters for the first time in six days. Fifth Air Force said its pilots shot down two and damaged four.

The indomitable ROKs were fighting to regain the prime strategic front peak where numerous Chinese battalions, in "obedience of orders," were themselves Friday to block the smash into the main Allied line.

Ordered to retreat, the Chinese attacked in waves but were driven back and slain on barren peak.

The way back was bloody. But Allied air strikes on the crest were slowing the Communist fire.

"The enemy gunners who were not hit kept their heads down," AP Correspondent Randolph reported from the front.

Other Allied troops fought Chinese battalions attacking the Chinese attack line in waves on Triangle and Pinnacle, the highest peak on nearby Ridge.

The 19 days of continuous fighting for the Kumhwa ridge piled up the longest and bloodiest fighting of the past year.

Communist battalions attacked an Allied outpost east of the Triangle — Sniper and four outposts south of Incheon on the Western front. They were repelled in bloody fighting.

Camden Routs Helpless Cats by 32-7 Tally

The Camden Panthers struck in lightning like fashion in the first half last night and before the Bobcats realized the game had started, the Panthers were up 12-0.

It was the first district game for both teams and practically eliminated the Bobcats from any title aspirations.

The cat was engineered by Camden's Bobby Gatling who scored the first touchdown on a 58 yard pass for three more and intercepted the Bobcats from any title aspirations.

Yerger Runs Wild Over Camden 38-0

The Yerger High Tigers ran almost all night over the Camden Lincoln High Tigers and when the final whistle blew the score was 38-0.

Early in the contest Silverster Davis raced 50 yards to score behind some key blocks by Daniel Martin and Willie Gamble. Shortly after Miller Green sprinted 20 yards leaving the halftime score 12-0.

Both Lincoln High and Yerger high performed at the halftime period.

In the final half it was a near rout with Green taking a pass from Williamson for a tally. Davis scored again on a 50 yard run and Williamson passing to Phillips. The entire Yerger team was outstanding including Nelson, Shaw, McEach, Phillips, the McEach boys, Chambers, Hicks, Jones, Moses, Briggs, Moss, Warren, Paschal and Johnson.

Adlai Gives Ultimatum' Riat Ends

By DON WHITEHEAD
CHICAGO, Ill. (U. S. -) Convicts ended their four-day rebellion at Menard state prison today and released their seven hostages before Gov. Adlai Stevenson carried out plans for making a personal appeal to them.

The rebel convicts capitulated after an ultimatum was delivered by Michael Seyfert, state director of public safety.

Seyfert told the insurgents, who had been held in the prison since Monday, that unless they surrendered heavily armed state troopers would cut through the cell house doors with torches and "use whatever force necessary to restore order."

After releasing their hostages, the 32 convicts marched back to their cell blocks.

Just before this, a loudspeaker had been set up in the prison yard and Gov. Stevenson was expected to issue an appeal or an ultimatum to the convicts.

The D. C. riot president, Edmond J. Davis, had broken off the campaign tour in the East to rush here by plane and automobile.

Before the convicts capitulated, the heavily-armed state troopers and police had surrounded the cell house.

An unidentified state police captain shouted a demand for an immediate release of the hostages.

Two gunshots were heard. They apparently were fired on warning. "Wait a minute," a convict replied from the cell house.

"Get them down here now," the captain demanded. "We're waiting."

Newsman watched from a high rocky bluff which served as a prison wall. From that distance Stevenson could not be distinguished but he was presumed to be in the prison yard at the time of the convicts' surrender.

The first of the 32 hostages to emerge from the cell house where Lt. Loren Stewart, 55, and Guard William Dwyer, 37, were taken to the prison hospital.

However, Stewart and Dwyer were so weak they had to be assisted as they walked from the cell house.

'Fake' Cries Democrats in Photostat Deal

WASHINGTON (U. P. -) Sen. Homer Ferguson today accused Democrats of using "fake" photostats to "falsify" Dwight D. Eisenhower's attitude on draftees and military pay.

The Michigan Republican said the photostats, published in the Democratic committee's newspaper, "The Democratic," were "falsified" in which partial texts have been clipped and put under headlines, the total effect being to "falsify" a lie.

"For instance, the general, in talking about military pay, referred only to men in a proposed civilian training program, not to draftees for whom he advocated higher pay," Ferguson said. "He referred to pay for foreign troops under NATO in the second photostat."

The outright falsification by the Democratic national committee is "typical of the lies and slanders being used by the Democrats to keep the military from being a part of the effort to turn the election tide," Ferguson said.

In another statement released by the Republican national committee, Rep. Charles McNichols (R-N.Y.) said that U. S. operations abroad have become "just a glorified glorification of the number of civilian employees overseas has risen from 1,115 in 1940 to more than 79,000 now."
